

Contemporary classic

Derek Frost is one of the most talented young interior designers to emerge in this country. Following several years as part of the design team at Mary Fox Linton, he now runs his own design consultancy specialising in interior design and furniture design.

His approach to interiors is contemporary classic which is reflected in his furniture designs. These are mainly derivative yet have a boldness that often belies their origins.

At left, lacquered chest on a stand, from Serena Russell; above, console table.

Derek Frost is one of the most talented young interior designers to emerge in this country. Following several years as part of the design team at Mary Fox Linton, he now runs his own design consultancy specialising in interior design and furniture design.

His approach to interiors is contemporary classic which is reflected in his furniture designs. These are mainly derivative yet have a boldness that often belies their origins.

At left, lacquered chest on a stand, from Serena Russell; above, console table.