

Zaha Hadid

IMAGES

Aqua Table (2005)

Liquid Glacial Collection (2012)

Produced in transparent acrylic, these tables distort and refract light in a manner resembling frozen water. Rather than appearing solid, they seem almost immaterial.

The collection includes:

- dining tables
- coffee tables
- consoles
- side tables

Each behaves almost like an optical sculpture.

Zephyr Sofa

Developed using advanced digital modelling, the sofa consists of continuous flowing surfaces rather than conventional upholstery arranged upon a frame.

The piece demonstrates how Hadid translated architectural landscape forms into domestic furniture.

Serac Bench

Inspired by glacial formations, the bench combines sculptural geometry with remarkable structural efficiency.

Its faceted surfaces catch changing light throughout the day.

Moon System Sofa

Designed as a modular seating landscape.

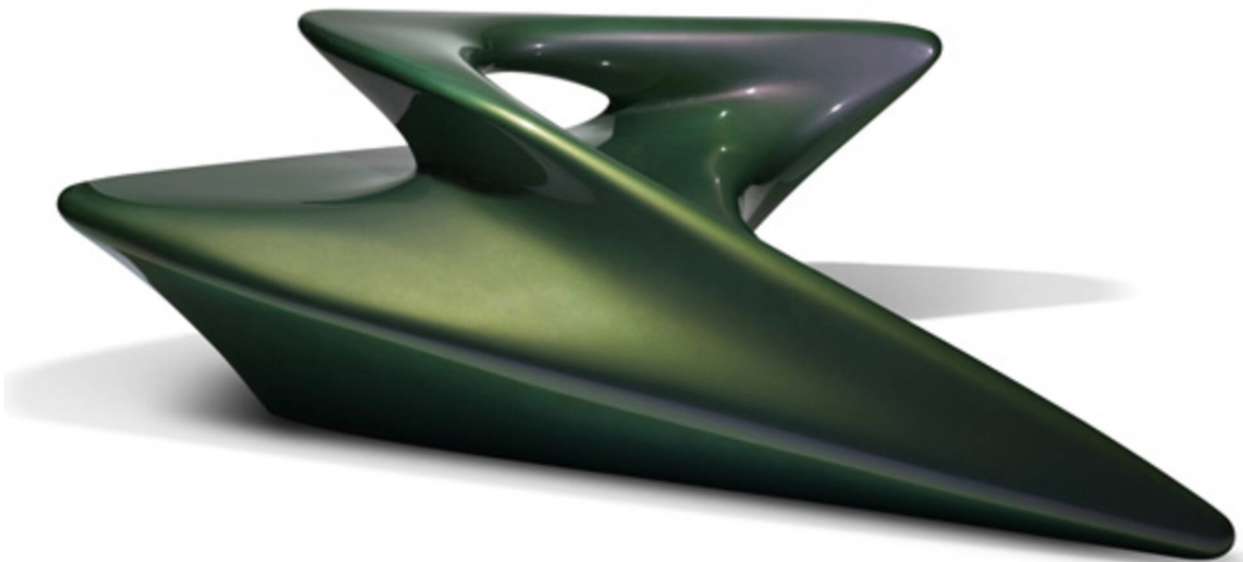

Individual components can be rearranged into multiple configurations, encouraging social interaction rather than fixed seating arrangements.

Seamless Collection

A family of tables and seating exploring continuous folded surfaces with virtually invisible joints.

Manufacture relied heavily upon CNC technology.

Zaha Hadid's furniture was produced in collaboration with several leading design manufacturers and galleries, including:

- Sawaya & Moroni
- David Gill Gallery
- CITCO
- Cassina
- Established & Sons

Many editions were produced in very limited numbers and have become highly collectible.